Summary

I have great interest in coding. That's why I decided to enroll in a coding bootcamp in order to enhance my skills and understanding in programming. I was a freelance crowdsource worker a not a long time ago and It gives me the financial support I need for my family. But even though the pay is good. I've always wanted to pursue this career. Not just for a secured job but a place where I could work that I can applied the skills that I am really interested at.
